1. Students will have wider access to information so that they can learn many skills for foreign languages.
2. Electronic devices in the classroom can improve the learning experience by providing instant video access or wide range of music.
3. Social learning is a great way for students to share information, thoughts, and ideas on a subject.
4. Students may focus only on the social network instead of the lesson due to the temptation of social media.
5. Students may find links to websites with inappropriate materials or become victims of cyber bullying.

Ex 2:

1. iPads allow smoother and faster communication and transmission of materials between teachers and students.
2. Students can create documents and immediately upload them to a teacher's electronic folder.
3. Applications can help teachers score multiple-choice quizzes immediately and post results.
4. It is likely that there is an educational application designed to satisfy any specific need in the classroom.
5. Electronic files last forever, and this feature is helpful during the research process.
6. Many e-books in all subjects are available for free download.

Ex 3:*Hint:

- iPads are not the ideal solution to teaching because performing various tasks requires the use of different devices.
- The use of iPads in the classroom depends heavily on the quality of Wi-Fi at the school, and a slow or disconnected Wi-Fi server can spoil an entire lesson.
- Students are easy to get access to a game, a chat or social network with iPads.
